The New Student Record

The background of the cover is a painting of a large stone archway. Through the arch, a bright blue sky with white, fluffy clouds is visible. Below the arch, a body of blue water stretches across the horizon. In the foreground, on the left, are the spines of several books. One book is green with gold lettering, and another is red with gold decorative patterns. To the right of the books, there is a small, grassy hill with yellow wildflowers and some small white flowers. The overall scene is bright and scenic.

Welcome

The background of the page features a close-up, high-contrast photograph of a stone wall in the upper right corner. The stones are irregular and weathered. Overlaid on the lower left and center is a faint, light-colored map of the state of Rhode Island. The map shows the state's outline and major internal features like the Narragansett Bay and the Pawtuxet River.

How To Tell If You Have A Roommate From Hell

By now, you probably already have one, but things can change. People can change in college, and their lifestyles become dramatically different as they try new things and rebel against traditions. Here is an easy test to let you know whether or not it is time to look for a new roommate. Believe it or not, some of these are based on true horror stories actually experienced by URI students.

Top Ten Things Telling You To Run Away:

1. She brings home a new boyfriend—every night!
2. You notice he sleeps all day and stays up all night, and you are worried about his new fascination with bats.
3. Things start disappearing, like your wallet, your new shoes, and your mother's picture from your dresser.
4. She starts eating her weight in food—your food!
5. You find out he is forging U.S. currency.
6. You find a note on your thermostat in December that says "Do not turn me higher than 58 degrees. We need to conserve energy. Have a nice day."
7. His mother from Long Island calls or "stops by" every Saturday morning at 8am, just to check up on her "precious boy, so far away from home for the first time."
8. His 900-number phone bill is the same amount as the rent.
9. By January, you are sitting in the dark, with no phone, no cable, and no heat, because his roommate spent your half for a trip to the Bahamas for spring break.
10. Things are just so miserable you would rather go home and live with your parents.

URI has over 60 organizations and clubs. School isn't just academics; get involved in one of these student organizations now! Meeting new friends and learning new things are all part of the college experience. For more information please contact the Student Senate office, 138 Memorial Union (792-2261).

GREEK LIFE AT URI

Greek System at URI

You are about to begin your college career and the best years of your life. These years can be even more fulfilling if you spend them as a member of the Greek community. Fraternity/sorority living offers much more than dormitory living—more in academic development, more in leadership development, more in athletics, more in campus and community involvement, more in social development, and all at a lower cost.

Presently, there are seventeen national fraternities and eight national sororities at the University of Rhode Island. All of the houses are located within one-quarter mile of the academic buildings, so walking to classes is no problem. There are only four fraternities that do not have houses on campus. They are Alpha Tau Omega (ATO), Beta Theta Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE), and Zeta Beta Tau (ZBT). To find any of the other houses, just use the map on page four.

ACADEMICS: Did you know that if you join a fraternity or sorority, you stand a better chance of graduating from college? Statistics show that 64% of Greek students graduated as compared to 47% non-Greeks. Peer pressure to perform well in scholastics, the concern for brothers and sisters to help each other in their courses, and the desire the fraternity or sorority instills to stay in school are all factors promoting academic achievement.

LEADERSHIP: Greek life offers many opportunities for leadership development. Each house has an elected slate of officers as well as delegates on the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association (organizations that tie the Greek System together and oversee activities). There are numerous opportunities for one to demonstrate his/her leadership abilities and learn something about organization and group leadership.

ATHLETICS: Each year, the University's intramural sports league is dominated by Greeks. Each house sponsors one or two teams in each of the twelve sports such as basketball, softball, football, and volleyball. Not only do these activities offer a chance to become involved, but they provide a good time and often a winning season.

CAMPUS AND COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT: If you are interested in getting involved, Greeks are a great place to start. Not only are student organizations enthusiastically staffed by Greek members, but the fraternities and sororities extend their efforts to the surrounding community. Each house sponsors philanthropic projects for cancer, leukemia, and multiple sclerosis to name a few.

SOCIAL: The social aspect of Greek life seems to be the most publicized. Each house sponsors socials, formals, spring weekends and Homecoming dances. These events provide an opportunity for almost limitless social contacts, many of them becoming life-long friends.

Along with the academic, social and athletic activities, Greek life offers a chance to be yourself. Individuality is stressed, each person having something special and unique to offer their house. We hope you will consider the Greek experience—we help make college more than learning...we make it an education!

Greek Life

Becoming a member of a fraternity can be a great college experience. No other group at this university can offer you the brotherhood, interfraternal camaraderie, and social activities that a fraternity can.

Fraternity members are highly visible on campus and that is due to the opportunity for campus and community involvement that Greek life provides. A good percentage of the student leader positions are held by Greeks. Many local, regional and national charities have benefited from the thousands of dollars and man hours that are donated by our chapters. Joining a fraternity is a life commitment. Greek alumni always have a place to call home, and college men to call brothers. Alumni brothers are regularly informed of IFC and chapter events through financial support to the chapter. Presidents, senators, successful businessmen and celebrities have said that being Greek gave them the leadership qualities and confidence to succeed.

The Greek life has been beneficial to many people. They chose to become of the opportunity to meet and socialize with others who had similar interests, to improve academic progress, and to develop lasting friendships. Through IFC Rush, you have the opportunity to make that same choice. Best of luck in finding the fraternity that's right for you!

A sorority is a home away from home: a group of women who make your adjustment to college life a little easier. Sisterhood, beginning the day you become a pledge, is a term that is difficult to explain yet in the basis of every sorority. Sisterhood results from sharing dreams, goals, laughter and tears. Sisterhood provides you with lasting friendships and memories that will enrich your college years and which you will cherish many years to follow.

Along with sisterhood come other very important elements of sorority life, such as scholarship and leadership. Sorority women stress the importance of academic achievement through various scholarship programs. As a pledge you are encouraged to study with others in the same major so that the more experienced women can help if you have a problem. Chapter scholarship awards are also part of this picture.

Sorority members may accept membership on various committees within the sorority as well as others on campus. Members are encouraged to assume leadership of committees by serving as chapter officers. Sororities work together on charity projects as well as community and campus affairs to increase school spirit as well as increase student participation in all campus affairs.

We can't stop there ... other important elements of sorority life include sporting and social events. Intramurals between sororities provide friendly competition among the women. Flag football, volleyball, soccer and basketball are just a few! Remember ... anyone can play. Sororities are involved in social events such as formals, Greek Week and banquets just to get you started but there are many more!

I hope that you have begun to get an idea of what sorority life is all about. Rush Week will give you the opportunity to view all of the sororities ... ask questions! Whatever sorority you choose as your home the friendships you form will be strong and lasting and will build memories you'll cherish a lifetime.
